"Lovely Is The Yuletide" Is Theme Of Andover Garden Club Flower Show

"Lovely Is The Yuletide" is the theme of the standard flower show, which the Andover Garden Club will hold at the Amos Blannard Historical House, 97 Main St., Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 2 and 3.

The arrangements will reflect the brilliance and the piety of the Christmas Season, blended with the traditional setting of this lovely Federal Mansion built in 1719. The Andover Historical

President John F. Kennedy

A grief-stricken but unbelieving community was perhaps the only way to describe Andover last Friday afternoon.

Now the knowledge of that dreadful assassination has penetrated deep into our minds and hearts — and with it a deeper sense of loss for this man who, as President of the United States, was murdered so cruelly, so needlessly.

John F. Kennedy — 35th President of the United States — champion of human rights . . . strong leader among men and nations . . . father and husband — will be mourned deeply and lastingly by all of us.

Possibly our grief is even a little greater, because we know, deep in our hearts, that all of us have been diminished by this act of savagery. We, who so boastfully lay claim to being sophisticated, and civilized, must acknowledge that somewhere we collectively have failed.

With that awareness, We ask Almighty God to let us emerge from this tragic period in our lives with a greater understanding, a chastened but better people.

Society has restored and preserved the house and interior furnishings and the grounds and gardens have been a "special project" of the Andover Garden Club for many years.

Mrs. Ralph H. Hill, president, is assisted by co-chairmen, Mrs. Byron R. Cleveland and Mrs. Edward C. Nichols, and the following Committee:

Mrs. Charles Baker, Mrs. C.H. Hollis, Mrs. D. S. Byers, Mrs. N.

Stowers, Mrs. P. K. Sargent, Mrs. Christy M. Robinson, Mrs. W. C. Tomlinson, Mrs. G. Westhaver, Mrs. J. C. Young, Mrs. E. L. Bramley, Mrs. G. F. Redman, Mrs. D. Falvey Jr., Mrs. J. M. McCoy, Mrs. T. Hushed, Reverent Town Mourns President's Death

A hushed and reverent community paid its last respects to President John F. Kennedy Monday noon.

Only the tolling of the Phillips Academy bell, drifting down over the town, broke an almost unbelievable silence.

Traffic was nearly at a standstill; only a few persons were visible on the streets.

All business had shut down for the day; those firms selling the necessities of life opened in late afternoon.

Special religious services were held from Friday, shortly after the first news of the President's death was received, through Monday.

Thus did Andover — each person in his own way — join in mourning the passing of the 35th President of the United States.

Depressing Weekend

To many, the weekend just past was the most depressing in memory.

To the personal loss, felt by thousands, was added the low, grey skies of Saturday and, finally, the rain.

Local business establishments, which generally closed spontaneously last Friday afternoon, had re-opened Saturday. But most businessmen described business as being extremely slow.

Following the policy of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade, local stores closed all day Monday. Many industrial firms closed for the day; others allowed employees to take time from their work to attend religious services.

Schools closed all day Monday — but re-opened Tuesday on a regular schedule, and will continue through the half-day planned for today.

Every social and public event planned for the weekend was either cancelled or postponed.

The Firemen's Ball, scheduled for last Friday evening, will be re-scheduled.

Cancelled Saturday was the traditional Andover-Methuen football game. Coach Richard Collins reports that a decision on re-scheduling the game will be made after the Thanksgiving Day tilt with North Andover. Preliminary talks between the coaches and athletic directors of the two towns have been held, in an attempt to work out details but a specific decision has not been reached.

Well-Remembered Here

President Kennedy, whose life was so sadly and uselessly taken last Friday by an assassin, was better-known here than are most Presidents.

He had been to Andover during his campaigns for the United States Senate, and had many personal friends here.

His popularity was such that, in the 1958 Senatorial election, he swept every precinct in the town.

The Townsman story of that election read, in part, "U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy single-handedly reversed a tradition as old as the town itself, when he carried every precinct in the community in Tuesday's election. Old-time political leaders claim it has never been done before, even in the heyday of such popular Democratic campaigners as President Franklin D. Roosevelt and David I. Walsh."

Although the town's historical Republican leanings returned in the 1960 presidential election, President Kennedy came closer to carrying the town than had any other Democratic candidate in the community's history.

Faith Lutheran Church Will Officially Organize Sunday

Faith Lutheran Church of Andover will officially become a distinct body of the Lutheran Church in America Sunday, Dec. 1.

The Rite of Organization will be conducted during a service to be held at 10 a.m. in Peabody House on Phillips St., where worship services have been held since Aug. 6, 1963. Previous to that date, the group had met in Pike School auditorium since Nov. 4, 1962. It is hoped that a new church building will be erected in Andover within the next two years, on land presently being considered by the site selection committee.

Preaching Sunday's historical address will be The Rev. Dr. O.

Karl Olander, President of the New England Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. Hartland H. Gifford, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, will conduct the liturgy.

During the Rite of Organization, those desiring to be charter members of the congregation will come forward and at the request of The Rev. Gordon Loren, regional secretary of the Board of American Missions, will present a resolution to organize. After the resolution is passed, Dr. Olander will declare the congregation officially organized. There will follow a baptismal service and confirmation of new members.

Heart-Warming Ceremony At High School Sunday

Impressive and heart-warming ceremonies were held Sunday in the Library of the High School, honoring the memory of Eugene V. "Pop" Lovely.

In the presence of his widow, his two sons, and their families, warm tribute was paid to Pynchard High School's former headmaster teacher and coach.

A portrait of Mr. Lovely, done by Miss Frances Dalton, and a bronze plaque of his membership in the Mass. High School Football Coaches Hall of Fame, were unveiled. Undertaking this portion of the program was Stephen A. Boland, retired Post Master and captain of the first football team Mr. Lovely coached here, in 1911. Accepting for the High School was Principal Philip F. Wormwood — the first Pynchard graduate to later become high school principal

Bernard M. Kellmurray, representing faculty members who served with Mr. Lovely during his long tenure here, paid tribute to Mr. Lovely.

Presenting Mrs. Lovely with a bouquet of red roses was J. Everett Collins, a former member of one of Mr. Lovely's teams.

During the afternoon, a special tribute was paid to the late Augustine J. Connolly, captain of "Pop" Lovely's last football team here. A bouquet of blue and gold chrysanthemums was presented to members of his family, by Dedication Committee Chairman Joseph B. Doherty.

Irving J. Whitcomb, general chairman, read a list representing at least one member of every class during Mr. Lovely's tenure.

The exercise, a semi-annual maneuver, was designed to test squad and platoon tactics in both defensive and offensive military operations.

Pigeon, a platoon sergeant in Headquarters Company, 4th Battalion of the brigade's 18th Infantry in Berlin, entered the Army in 1954 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in October, 1959. He is a graduate of Pynchard High School. His wife Marilyn, is with him in Germany.

Christian Science Lecture Was Held

What a man thinks of himself is an important part of his religion, a Christian Science lecturer said in Methuen Friday, Nov. 22.

Georgina Tennant of London spoke before a public audience in First Church, Congregational, under the sponsorship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

"Man is inseparable from God," she declared, "was made by God for His own glory, to express His power, and reflect His love."

"Our acceptance of this fact brings the power of God to bear upon our human problems and helps us find a just solution."

Mrs. Tennant noted that "many great leaders in human history have recognized the power of spiritual qualities in determining the course of human history."

"The demand of the human mind for security and fulfillment is basically a spiritual hunger," she said, and "only spiritual values satisfy the human heart."

Noting that "a man's religion determines his attitude to everyday life and to other people," the lecturer said that we can "scarcely overestimate the value to the world of a true understanding of God."

CHURCH NEWS

The very lovely flowers on the Altar of the West Church last Sunday morning were the gift of Mrs. William Trow in memory of her husband.

by: Paul Upson, R. Ph.

If you were to witness the control room activity of a missile shoot you might marvel at the dials, controls, connections and message-sending apparatus necessary to get the bird off its pad. However, the body you pack around so matter-of-factly contains a control and message system so complex as to make a missile effort look like kindergarten stuff.

The body contains billions of nerve cells, or neurons, with billions of connections. Around the outside of the cerebrum, the largest part of the brain, are about nine billion neurons. Since it is necessary for each of these cells to make connection with several other cells, you can readily understand the fantastic number of connections involved in this one area of the human system.

You can readily understand, also, the growing importance of prescriptions in the cure or relief of human ailments. Prescriptions are a specialty at SHAW-SHEEN PHARMACY, 2 Poor St. Try us. Hearing On Pike School

The second public airing of complaints over traffic conditions on Sunset Rock rd., by residents of that street, of Ballardvale and Hidden rds., will take place next Monday night at the Selectmen's meeting.

Mrs. Sidney Zussman, spokesman for the group of mothers at a meeting nearly nine weeks ago, verified the plan to once again make public complaints about the access conditions from the Pike School.

At the initial meeting, Trustee Melvin Weiner promised that an access from the School onto Hidden rd. would be installed before winter.

Residents of the area are disturbed that, although winter has arrived, there is no access.

They recognize that the Selectmen have no official power to act.

Twenty organizations were represented at a public meeting of the Recreational Council, Nov. 21 at the former Camp Olympia.

Recreation director Leslie Bartow explained the plans for this new town area - and stressed the importance of completing winter plans for the area.

These include finishing the sliding area; providing heat in the lodge building, running water and some interior partitions.

The spring plans call for work on picnic areas, playgrounds and ball fields.

More adequate parking facilities are also needed, Mr. Bartow stressed.

The meeting was called to acquaint other organizations within the town with the recreational site - and to enlist their support.

Greens Sale To Be Held

The annual Christmas greens sale of the Hospitality Shop Committee of Lawrence General Hospital will take place Dec. 9, 10, and 11.

Held customarily at the Hospital, it was decided earlier in the season to dispense with the sale because of extensive building at the Hospital and the strain on parking facilities. The demand of satisfied customers reversed this decision, and the sale will take place in the former workshop of the committee, the barn of Mrs. John B. Edmonds, 111 Reservation rd.

A group of talented members of the Hospitality Shop Committee and interested friends have worked there in previous years and are once again engaged in constructing wreaths, table arrangements, Christmas corsages and swags. Their products will be on sale from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the three days, and the revenue will be used toward the Committee's pledge of $25,000 to the Hospital's Building Fund.

Mrs. Edmonds is chairman of the sale and will open her home to customers for coffee and refreshments. Appointed members of the Committee will act as hostesses. Mrs. Edmonds is being assisted in the workshop by Mrs. Douglas B. Pitman, Mrs. Nathaniel Stowers, Mrs. Robert E. Marland and many of the Committee. Mrs. Edmonds' home is located on Reservation rd. in the West Parish section of Andover, a short distance from Lowell st.

Boosters Drive Most Successful

Treasurer Homer O. Wadman of the Andover Booster's Club announced, at the club's November meeting held at Hollis's reception room, that the recently concluded membership drive was the most successful in the club's 15-year span.

Through the use of a novel plan originated by Charles O. McCullom, 500 volunteer students of Andover High School canvassed the entire town seeking one dollar memberships to the Booster's Club. Mr. Wadman announced that the sum of $2,307, representing a 30 percent gain over previous years, had been collected.

The club's funds are used yearly to further the cause of many of the youth groups in the town in addition to the awarding of six scholarships to graduating seniors of the Andover High School.

As a result of action taken at the annual meeting of the Booster's Club, President Walter Pearson appointed a committee chaired by John Rooks to study the club's scholarship program and report back at the January meeting on ways in which the program could be made of more benefit to the youth of the town. Committee members are J. Everett Collins, Charles D. McCullom, Richard Collins and Albert Swenson.

Red Cross To Have New President

Edward F. Murphy, chairman of the Andover Chapter of the American Red Cross, recently received the following communication from the Eastern Area National Red Cross office.

E. Roland Harriman, volunteer chairman and principal officer of ANRC, has announced the election of General James F. Collins as president of the organization as of April 1, 1964.

The four-star general, presently Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Army in the Pacific, was elected chief executive officer of the Red Cross by ARC National Board of Governors following his nomination by Mr. Harriman.

He will succeed General Alfred M. Gruenther, when he retires next March 31, after seven years and three months as American Red Cross president.

General Collins, who has served 37 of his 58 years in the Army will retire from the military prior to taking this Red Cross position.

HEARING ON PIKE ACCESS

James D. Wilson, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, mented:

"Legally, there's not a thing we can do."

However, he continued, afford them (the residents) the chance to come in and see it."

He agreed that the are "getting nervous about fear that the School trust, too complacent".

At the original airing of the residents' problem, it was by the mothers that the Sunet Rock rd. - where vehicular access to the constructed - is a children using the street. They asked that be built onto Hidden rd. South Main st., and requested that the Sunet access be discontinued.

Questions Sale Of AVIS Land

The Andover Village Improvement Society's recent sale of some land to a developer was under attack at the Selectmen's meeting Nov. 18.

Selectman William Stewart - not objecting especially to the real estate transaction as such - vigorously pointed out the tax loss to the town under such arrangements. And he wondered if the town should not take steps of some kind - in the future - to collect taxes on land that is held by a charitable corporation, then sold to developers.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff pointed out that the AVIS sold the land to raise funds, so that additional green areas can be obtained by the organization, for the benefit of the town.

Although no action was taken, Mr. Stewart suggested at one point that a tax account be set up - without annual payment as long as the land is held by the organization. If the property is sold, the continued, some back taxes might will be charged.

Funds Available For Town Study

A wide-spread study of the town is in the making, with the help of the federal government.

The Planning Board is continuing its preparation of a proposal, which probably will result in federal participation in the planning operation.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff told the Selectmen recently that funds for Andover's share of the cost - $3,600 as one-third of the total - will be included in the 1964 budget, if the proposal is not accepted during 1963. Sufficient funds are in the Planning Board budget this year to cover the cost, he explained. The Government will pay $7,200, if the proposal is approved by the federal officials. If the local proposal meets federal requirements, the town gains

Young In Hearts Visited Chapel

The "Young In Hearts", a group of people who are 60 years or older, met Tuesday, Nov. 19, at the Free Christian Church.

They then took a ride to visit the Sylvia Pratt Kemper Memorial Chapel at Phillip's Academy and held a brief service of worship, led by the Rev. J. Allyn Bradford. Mr. Bradford explained the significance of the symbols used in the Chapel. These symbols were designed by Jerry Schertzer, who also serves on the faculty.

Rev. Mr. Bradford noted that this Inter-faith Chapel is always open. It is dimly lit and is very conducive to quiet meditation, and may be entered at any time of day at the ground level at the left side of Cochran Chapel.

Following the service at the Sylvia Pratt Kemper Memorial Chapel, the "Young In Hearts" returned to the Parsonage of the Free Christian Church on High st. and were served tea by Mrs. Bradford.

The "Young In Hearts" cordially invite all senior citizens to come to their meetings. For more information Mrs. Helen Burnham of Chestnut ct. may be contacted.

The South Church will present its second organ recital Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, at 8 o'clock. Ivar Sjostrom, who has an outstanding reputation in the New England area as organist, will be featured as guest artist.

Mr. Sjostrom received his early training with Dr. Carl Fetteicher, former director of music at Phillips Academy. At a later date he studied organ with Dr. Frederick Snow and Dr. Frederick Snow, Boston and choral conductor G. Wallace Woodworth of the University. Mr. Sjostrom has presented recitals for the New shire, Cape Cod, and the Chapters of the American of Organists, has given recitals at the Methuen Music Hall for the past 10 years and has played several concerts on the municipal in Portland. A former organist of the New England Choir Guild, Mr. Sjostrom is a member of the Merrimack Chapter of the American Organists and a member board of directors of the Memorial Music Hall.

His program at South Church chosen to demonstrate the proved flexibility of the renovated organ, will include music by Handel, Bach, Brahms, D'Aquin, Pachelbel, Cesar Franck. A portion of the program will be devoted to the Advent and Christmas songs.

Rev. Palmquist To Present Program

A combined meeting of the men's and women's fellowships of the South Church will be held in the Township Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5.

"A Sure Sign of Christmas" with The Rev. Roger Palmquist conducting a program of drawings and songs, will be presented.

The program begins with a series of "quick-action" drawings designed both to entertain and create a setting for the program. The drawings are drawn in color, and are bold in their rendering. A commentary accompanies the cartoon.

Another phase of the program is a chalk painting done under light. Mr. Palmquist sings songs as he draws. Mrs. Palmquist, an accomplished pianist, accompanies him in this phase of the program.

Currently, he is working as assistant with Charles M. "creator of the comic-strip nuts"

Refreshments after the program will be served by A.P.C.

PRESIDENT LYNDON B. JOHNSON - Frank J. Leone Jr. of William St. captured the nation's 36th President on film, during a celebration in New York City honoring astronaut John Glenn. Special Approval for Museum Trips

A whetting of appetites for science study is in store for thousands of Massachusetts school children between now and June, with the recent approval of the supplementary budget by the State Legislature.

Included in the budget under the Department of Education was an appropriation to extend to schools throughout the Commonwealth a special museum of science program in Greater Boston schools, which has been receiving the enthusiastic endorsement of educators for more than a decade. The museum is notifying all affected public, private, and parochial schools immediately of this new opportunity. It is also asking them to make their bookings as quickly as possible, and since the spring months are always crowded in the Museum, it is recommending a fall or winter visit. Bookings will be scheduled in the order received, Museum officials said. Schools must provide their own transportation.

In addition to free admission to the Museum for school groups with advance reservations, the school-visit program gives a choice of two special features. One, for sixth to ninth graders, is a stimulating science lecture-demonstration prepared and presented by the Museum's Education Department. The second, for any age group, is a star showing in the Hayden Planetarium.

To take care of the anticipated increase in school visits, the Museum is adding an early afternoon lecture-demonstration on Wednesdays, and additional Planetarium showings, both morning and afternoon, Tuesdays through Fridays, as required.

Booth To Head Regional School

James A. Booth, 333 Salem St., has been named director of the Greater Lawrence regional technical high school.

The regional committee, with a 6-1 vote, elected Mr. Booth. The single dissenting vote went to Paul J. Sullivan.

Mr. Booth, who acted as educational consultant for the regional committee, has been serving as director of the Malden Vocational High School. A native of that community, he has lived here since 1957. Prior to that time, Mr. Booth lived in North Reading, and served one term on the School Committee there.

He has served as a sheet metal instructor in schools in Weymouth, Southbridge and Malden. While in the Navy between 1942-'46, Mr. Booth organized a number of vocational training programs. He assumed the directorship of the Malden school in 1950.

He holds his Bachelor of Science degree from Fitchburg State College and a Master's Degree from Salem State College.

Trombly Gets Bus Contract

James F. Trombly, 21, 43 Lupine rd., has been awarded a school bus contract.

His was the only bid received by the School Committee, after a publicly-advertised call for bids.

His price was $4,985 for the standard 75 miles daily, plus 40 cents each extra mile.

CYO Congress This Weekend

Saturday, Nov. 30, and Sunday, Dec. 1, CYO members from 17 parishes in the Greater Lawrence area will participate in the third Deanery CYO Congress.

More than 800 Catholic teenagers are expected to take part in the varied two-day program that has been planned. The Congress will open with a Dialogue Mass facing the congregation, to be celebrated by the Rev. James A. Wenzel, O.S.A., the Deanery director, at St. Mary's Church, Lawrence, Saturday morning.

Other activities include a Communion Brunch, six panel discussions on topics of interest to youth, an Election Dance, the Election and Installation of the five new Deanery officers, and a Social Mixer.

One of the highlights of the Congress will be the election of the new president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and delegate, who will guide the CYO Deanery for the next year. St. Augustine's Parish in Andover is offering two candidates for election: Miss Mary Sanguedolce of Carmel rd., a sophomore at Andover High School for the office of vice-president, and Joel Ross of Sheridan rd., a sophomore at Austin Preparatory School in Reading, as a candidate for the office of delegate.

Close to 100 members of St. Augustine's C.Y.O. are expected to attend the two-day Congress, which is being held at St. Mary's Church, High School, and Auditorium in Lawrence.

Awards Presented To Cub Scouts

Cub Pack 72 of the Free Church held its Pack meeting Nov. 19.

As the boys arrived, Norman Viehmann made a recording of the boys' voices with a tape recorder, and during the evening the boys enjoyed hearing their voices played back.

Skits were put on by Den 1, Den 2, and Den 4. Assistant Cubmaster Russell made the following awards: Webelos, Raymond Bedell and David Towne; Wolf, Alan Russell; Lion, David Godin and Mark Ota; Bobcat, Gregory Landers, Colin Bodge and Thomas King.

Commissioner of Scouts Fred Eastman congratulated David Towne and Raymond Bedell on their graduation to scouting in Troop 73.

Special Cake On 80th Birthday

Oswald Tower enjoyed a special thrill on his 80th birthday.

Last Saturday, Bill Makray, vice president and promotion director of the Boston Celtics, personally delivered a huge birthday cake to help celebrate this special occasion.

The cake was to have been presented at the Celtics' Saturday game, but since the game was called off because of the death of President Kennedy, Mr. Makray had the pleasure of delivering the cake himself.

The inscription on the cake read "Hall of Fame, Ossie Tower 1883-1963" with the date. Mr. Tower was elected to be a charter member of the Basketball Hall of Fame because of his contribution to basketball since 1910. He served as editor of the "College Basketball Guide" for many years and also served as a teacher at Phillips Academy for 39 years.

Mr. Tower resides with his daughter, Marietta, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Arnold, 11 Judson rd.

The cake was enjoyed by the family, several neighbors including the Warlicks, the Maynards and the Steinerts, and on Sunday the remaining part was taken to Mr. Tower's son's family in Riverside, Conn.

Specific action on land for the town dump is being taken forthwith.

H. E. McGrath raised objections to present conditions at the dump. He lives on the rd., in close proximity to the dump. He noted, however, the dump has moved a quarter-mile closer to the town since the past few years, thus making the odor more objectionable.

The Selectmen asked Mr. McGrath to report on the matter. Mr. McGrath said a peace officer is being appointed to the Land Acquisition Commission to report on the matter.

Selectman William McGrath said a peace officer is being appointed to the Land Acquisition Commission to report on the matter.

There were plenty of last weekend, he said, and he suggested that the town dump, unless better controls are maintained.

Chemicals and rubber were the two main problems, he was told. However, the town dump, unless better controls are maintained.

Mr. Duff said a peace officer is being appointed to the Land Acquisition Commission to report on the matter.

Mr. Duff also stressed the impossibility of a complete land-fill operation at the dump. This would require trucks and manpower, and he reminded the group that his request for just such a man was turned down last winter.

However, the meeting with Selectman McGrath that town meeting had authority for the acquisition, and promised that action taken along those lines.

Gallery Open On Thanksgiving

Because of its exceptional interest to visitors beyond the range of this campus, the special exhibition at the Addison Gallery of American Art, at Phillips Academy, "Terms of Criticism," will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.,
the morning of Thanksgiving Day,
Nov. 28.

The purpose of the exhibit is to provide a clearer understanding of what critical literary terms actually mean by illustrating them with specific objects of art. Accordingly, drawings, paintings and sculpture are displayed with a series of brief comments discussing each work of art from particular points of view. Such terms as simile, metaphor, hyperbole, meiosis, allegory, exposition, satire, irony, objectivity, subjectivity, and some five dozen similar terms, are examples of the sort of vocabulary with which the exhibit is concerned. Selections from the Addison Gallery Collection are employed to help define these terms; but, in turn, this critical approach tends to explain the works of art themselves in words which the layman can readily understand.

The exhibit is also open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.;
Sundays from 2:30 to 5 p.m., until Dec. 23. The public is welcome without charge at all times.

FROM THE OTHER SIDE - A short time ago, workmen began placing this metal pipe along Main st., at Rogers Brook. Many curious men and women stopped to get a look at the construction - this is how it looked from the "working" side. The pipe was put in place prior to installation of the large pipe, which temporarily dead-ends Rogers st. When the second stage is authorized, a pipe will be placed under Main st. and connected to the one now installed.

Wedding...

YACOBIAN - BOBEK

Miss Barbara Ann Bobek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Bobek, 2 Fairview cir., Groveland, formerly of Andover, became the bride recently of Richard G. Yacoubian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vasken Yacoubian, 41 Tierney st., Cambridge.

The Rev. James F. Magennis performed the 1 o'clock ceremony in St. Patrick's Church, South Groveland. The couple received the Papal blessing. The bride was escorted by her father.

The bride wore a white brocade gown with velvet trim on the bodice, fashioned with long sleeves, a bell-shaped skirt, empire waistline and jewel neckline. Her three tiered illusion fingertip veil was attached to a pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet with a white orchid surrounded by white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Ann Alexander of Beverly was maid of honor. Sister of the bridegroom, Miss Miriam Yacoubian of Cambridge, was bridesmaid.

The attendants were attired in identical dresses of street-length crimson velvet fashioned with bracelet sleeves and scoop neckline. They wore matching velvet headbands with short veils and carried white satin muffs and American beauty roses.

John Cronin of Cambridge was best man. Ushers were William Bobek of Groveland, brother of the bride, and John Tregillakes of Somerville.

The Church altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums. Mrs. William Gibeau was organist, and James Sheard of Andover was soloist.

The reception was held in the Colony room of the Yankee Doodle Restaurant.

To receive for her daughter, Mrs. Bobek chose a blue silk sheath dress and matching accessories. Mrs. Yacoubian selected a cranberry brocade dress and flowered hat. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Yacoubian will reside in Watertown following a wedding trip to New York City and the Berkshire mountains. The bride is a graduate of Andover High School and Lawrence General Hospital School of Nursing. She is head nurse at the Ear, Nose and Throat clinic of Boston City Hospital.

Her husband attended Cambridge schools and served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is employed by the City Bank and Trust Co., Boston.

Completing 24th Coaching Year

Allyn B. Stillman of Gould rd. is completing his 24th year as soccer coach in the Medford school system.

His high school team, which had to start almost from scratch this year because most of its members were graduated in June, did very well indeed and won the Eastern Mass. championship.

Soccer, an import from Great Britain, is gaining rapidly in popularity in this country. There is, however, no long tradition of enthusiasm and participation here like that found in the British Isles. The value of such father-to-son knowledgeability was demonstrated Saturday Nov. 16, when the Medford team lost to the Ludlow team, which is made up mainly of grandsons of Scottish and English immigrants. Despite this loss, Mr. Stillman's team had a fine season. They play against preparatory schools and college freshman teams as well as high school opponents.

Mr. Stillman has served many years as referee for basketball and lacrosse games in this area. He is often remembered and visited by members of his former teams who express their gratitude for his training in stamina and sportsmanship.

Senior P.F. Heard Rev. Harry Lawson

The Rev. Harry Lawson of Lawrence spoke last Sunday to the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship of the Free Christian Church.

A personal friend of the pastor, the Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, Fr. Lawson expressed the belief that both Catholics and Protestants should seek to understand one another better because they believe in the same truth. However, he also stated that he would not encourage inter-faith dating because this leads to inter-faith marriage. People should know beforehand that among mixed marriages there is a much higher divorce rate, he explained.

The entire Senior Pilgrim Fellowship then held a group discussion led by Dorothy Meicke, Mary Johnston and Judy Nichols.

Receives 2.79% Of Federal Aid

Federal grant-in-aid programs to state and local governments, private institutions and individuals in fiscal year 1962, topped $10 billion, a $6 billion increase since 1953. This means that roughly one-tenth of the total federal taxes collected in that year was returned directly to our local areas through some 110 grant-in-aid programs, according to Senator Leverett Saltonstall's office.

How much did this - our own money - cost us? Of the total 1962 Federal tax collections of $93.1 billion, Massachusetts paid in over $2.6 billion - 2.86% of the total. Of the $10 billion grant-in-aid funds for that year, we received over $289 million or 2.79%. Thus on the average, Massachusetts received roughly the same percentage of return of funds from these programs as we sent to the Treasury in tax revenues.

Federal aid has become a major factor in recent years in financing a large number of our state and local government functions. This grant system dates back to the Morrill Act in 1862 which established the land grant colleges and instituted certain federally required minimum standards similar to the present grants-in-aid. Federal aid was later extended to agriculture, highways, vocational rehabilitation, forestry, and public health, to name a few. In the depression years, Federal aid was greatly expanded to meet social welfare needs.

Parents Invited To Breakfast

A parish-wide breakfast, sponsored by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, will be held at St. Robert Bellarmine's Church Dec. 10.
